22. Calendar & Lesson Management

The platform should include an interactive calendar for students, tutors, and admin.

Colour-Coded Lesson Status

Lessons should be displayed with different colours for quick identification:

-  Completed Lessons

-  Upcoming/Booked Lessons
-  Rescheduled Lessons
-  Cancelled Lessons
-  Ad Hoc Lessons (outside normal availability)

Student View

Students (or parents) should only be able to:

- View their booked lessons
- View available time slots for their assigned tutor
- Book lessons only within the tutor's published availability
- Reschedule or cancel lessons according to the cancellation policy

Students should not be able to see unavailable time slots or create lessons outside the tutor's availability.

Tutor View

Tutors should be able to:

- View their complete teaching calendar
- Set and update their regular weekly availability
- View booked, completed, cancelled, and rescheduled lessons
- Mark lessons as completed
- Create Ad Hoc Lessons outside their normal availability when needed

Ad Hoc Lessons

Ad Hoc Lessons are special lessons arranged outside a tutor's regular working hours.

- Only the tutor (or admin) can create these lessons.
- Students cannot request or book ad hoc lessons directly.
- Once created, the student receives a notification and can confirm attendance.
- Ad hoc lessons should appear in a different colour on the calendar for easy identification.

Admin View

The admin should have a master calendar showing:

- All tutors' schedules
- All student bookings
- Booked lessons
- Completed lessons

- Cancelled lessons
- Rescheduled lessons
- Free trials
- Ad hoc lessons
- Tutor availability
- Student attendance

The admin should be able to add, edit, reschedule, or cancel any lesson from the calendar and resolve scheduling conflicts if necessary.

This calendar should automatically adjust for each user's local time zone, ensuring students and tutors from different countries always see lesson times correctly.
